Допълнително Ви каним и на webinar с Russell Stannard на тема How to teach online - A complete introduction.

☑ This talk will take you through all the key things you need to consider when teaching online. If you need to know how to teach a 'live' online lesson to your students or how to organize your students into groups online then this is the talk for you. Learn to share content and create activities for your students and learn how to engage and communicate with them.
Express Publishing and Teacher Training Videos have teamed up to organize a complete guide to teaching online which will give you the skills, confidence and know-how to start immediately. A talk full of practical tips with a focus on making the process as simple as possible.

☑ Russell Stannard is an Educational Technologist with 20 years of experience of delivering online classes. He was a previous winner of the British Council 'ELT Technology' Award and the Times Higher Outstanding Educational Technology'. He is the founder of teachertrainingvideos.com a website to help teachers incorporate technology into their teaching and learning. His website receives more than 2000 visitors a day. Russell is a regular contributor for Express Publishing and writes a regular column in the Teacher's Corner.

☑ Tuesday 24th March at 1.00 pm UK Time (GMT)
